WHITE CREEK SPRINGS.

THIS fashionable, well known, and popular watering place, seven miles north of this city, is now open for the reception of visitors.

Many improvements have been made during the winter and spring, in extending the pleasure grounds, buildings, &c.

A POST OFFICE has been established at the Springs, and a daily line of Mail Stages will pass morning and evening—thus affording visitors every facility of receiving letters or reaching the Springs from any point.

These arrangements, together with a plentiful supply of ICE, GOOD MUSIC, and other facilities to "DRIVE DEER CARE AWAY," enables the proprietor to renew his pledges to his former patrons, and the public generally, to use every effort to contribute to the comfort of his guests, and render their stay with him pleasant and agreeable.

HEWE'S NERVE & BONE LINIMENT.

HIS article is offered to the public as a never failing cure for the Rheumatism, and it has accomplished cures which had defied the power of every other article. In acute and recent cases, the relief is instantaneous. After one or two applications of the Liniment, and in Chronic Rheumatism, the cases of cure are numerous. It is truly a remedy that reaches the NERVE AND BONE, with the most happy effect.

Who will go Bald?
COLONEL SEAFOR, Postmaster at Batavia, is knowing to the fact, that Dr. Bingham, of Geneseo county, aged over 70, and for more than 17 years very bald, had his hair fully restored by the use of one bottle of the Balm of Columbia, from COMSTOCK & CO.

Have you a cough?—Do not neglect it!— Thousands have met a premature death for the want of a little attention to a common cold.
Have you a cough?—Rev. Dr. Bartholemew's Expectorant Syrup, a safe medical preparation, containing no poisonous drugs, and used in excessive practice for several years, will most possively afford relief, and save you from that awful disease pulmonary consumption, which usually sweeps into the grave, hundreds of the young, the old, the fair, the lovely and the gay!

Have you a cough?—Be persuaded to purchase a bottle of this Expectorant Syrup to-day!—Tomorrow may be too late.
Have you a cough?—Bartholemew's Expectorant Syrup is the only remedy you should take to cure you.

For this plain reason:—That in no one of the thousands of cases where it has been used, has it failed to relieve.

THE FRIEND OF ALL!
DALLEY'S
Magical Pain Extractor.

FIRE, Frost, Scald, and their torture in every case subdued in five minutes; all injuries healed without scar. Inflammations, morbidities and swellings exterminated. "Sore and weak eyes cured, and broken breasts prevented and healed." This family friend will not be genuine unless N. B. Ten Dollars will be given to any person buying a box of DALLEY'S MAGICAL PAIN EX-TRACTOR, and return it empty, irrefragably testifying that the torture of a burn is not extracted in a few minutes. The hourly increased demand shows how much its merits are appreciated, every one of thousands, who have proved it on all kinds of injuries, acknowledge its superior qualities over all other compositions. It leaves no scab, even after small-pox pustules, when applied in reason; ambiguous and inactive amenias, fellow, fever sores, erysipelas, white swellings, all kinds of inflammations, cuts, wounds, frayed parts, sore eyes, mumps, indeed, hardly any kind of bruis or injury the human frame is subject to, but is readily subdued by this valuable salve.

LIVERY STABLE.
The undersigned would respectfully inform the citizens of this place, and the country generally, that he has opened a LIVERY STABLE in this place, on Jefferson street, at the Brick Stable formerly kept by Mr. J. A. Boardman, where every attention will be paid to horses left in his charge, and he hopes, that by devoting his attention exclusively to the business, and charging as low as any other establishment of the kind in this place, to merit a share of public patronage.

ASK, INQUIRE— Ask Those who Know.

THOSE only who know by trial or immediate observation, can form any idea of the effects of the perfect relief, of the almost charm-like cures effected in case of the PILES, RHEUMATISM, ALL SWEL-LINGS, AND ALL EXTERNAL PAINS, no matter how severe, by the use of Hay's Liniment. Find one who has used it that will not laud it above all things ever used, and you will find—what cannot be found.
For the relief of suffering human beings who may be afflicted, I beg you to ask—inquire,—and you will find many knowing of cases unconquerable by all other remedies, or physicians, though tried for many years, that have been cured by the use of the genuine

Hay's Liniment
Thousands of other persons know of similar cures. We appeal to their sense of justice—their human feelings.
It is but a duty you owe to your suffering fellow-beings, to let this great remedy be known. Speak of it then to all your friends.
This will save much pain where the newspapers are not read, or where readers are incredulous, because so many worthless articles are advertised for the same purpose.
To buyers we say, if all who have used it do not say it is beyond all praise, then do not take it. The proprietor will not allow this article to be paid for unless it cures, when all the directions are fully followed.
If any one suffering refuse now to try it?
If he does, he ought to be pitied more for his obstinacy than his suffering.

Mr. Hays would never consent to offer this article, were he not compelled by his sense of moral—of religious duty—to do all in his power for the victims of distress and misery. For this purpose he would sooner devote a fortune, than secure a dollar for any worthless article.

LOOK OUT.—Some swindlers have counterfeited this article, and put it up with various devices. Do not be imposed upon.
One thing only will protect you—it is the name of COMSTOCK & CO.; that name must be always on the wrapper, or you are cheated. Do not forget it. Take this direction with you, and test by that, or never buy; for it is impossible for any other to be true or genuine.

TO THE BALD HEADED, AND OTHERS.

DOES any know a neighbor or a friend who has been Bald, and whose head is now covered with fine hair? One whose coat collar was covered with dandruff, though brushed every hour—Or one whose hair at early age were turning grey, who now has not a grey hair? Children whose heads were covered with scurf,—whose hair would not grow, that are now growing the fullest crops of hair? Some cases must be known to most persons. Ask them the cause, and you will be told, these things have been done by the use of the BALM OF COLUM-BIA. Of 20 years growth is this article, its demand increasing annually some hundred per cent.—though when discovered not opposed by any thing for the same purpose, now assailed by almost numberless mushroom trash preparations that will ruin the hair if used to any extent. Can more than these facts be wanted—refer to the recommendations by a list of names of respectability, unequaled by any other article. Look to these things—buy this article. Stay and preserve your hair by its use, or if bald restore it. Ladies, attend to this—hundreds in fashionable life are using it as the only article really fit for the toilet. Long hair is very apt to fall out. Ladies, use the Balm of Columbia in time to save yourselves the disgrace of baldness by neglect of your persons.

It is your duty, as moralists, to preserve the beauties of nature, with which a bountiful Creator has endowed you—use the Balm, for it will do it.

Caution to be Observed.
Several most flagrant attempts have been made to counterfeit the Balm of Columbia.
Some of the impostors have gone so far as to counterfeit the splendid wrappings, and the Falls of Niagara, and every external mark except the name of Comstock, which they dare not forge.

To avoid impositions therefore, always look for the name of Comstock & Co. or L. S.
Comstock, and never buy the article unless it has that name upon it.

Interesting Correspondence.
The following letters do honor to the feelings which dictated them. They are both very happy in their style and the sentiments which they express. They will find a response in every true American heart.
Washington, July 1, 1841.

To the House of Representatives of the United States.

I have the honor herewith to submit to the House of Representatives, the copy of a letter addressed by myself to Mrs. Harrison, in compliance with the resolution of Congress, and her reply thereto.
JOHN TYLER.

WASHINGTON CITY, JUNE 13, 1841.

My Dear Madam:—The accompanying resolutions, adopted by the Senate & House of Representatives of the United States, will convey to you an expression of the deep sympathy felt by the representatives of the States, and of the people, in the sad bereavement which yourself and the country has sustained in the death of your illu-rious husband. It may now be justly considered that the public archives constitute his enduring monument, on which are inscribed, in characters not to be effaced, the proudest evidences of public gratitude for services rendered, and of sorrow for his death. A great and united people shed their tears over the bier of a devoted patriot and distinguished benefactor.

In conveying to you, my dear madam, the proposed respect of the two Houses of Congress for your person and character, and their condolence on the late afflictive dispensation of Providence, permit me to mingle my feelings with theirs, and to tender to you my fervent wishes for your health, happiness and long life.

JOHN TYLER.

Mrs. ANNA HARRISON.

NORTH BEND, JUNE 24, 1841.

Dear Sir:—I have received with sentiments of deep emotion, the resolutions of the Senate and House of Representatives, which you have done me the honor of forwarding, relative to the decease of my lamented husband.
I cannot sufficiently express the thanks I owe to the nation and its assembled Representatives, for their condolence so feelingly expressed, of my individual calamity, and the nation's bereavement; but, mingling my tears with the sighs of the many patriots of the land, pray to heaven for the enduring happiness and prosperity of our beloved country.

ANNA HARRISON,
JOHN TYLER, President of the U. S.

MR. TYLER AND A BANKRUPT LAW.

The following message from the President to Congress; will show his opinions on the subject of this vital measure.

To the House of Representatives of the United States:

The accompanying memorial in favor of the passage of a Bankrupt Law, signed by nearly three thousand of the inhabitants of the city of New-York, has been forwarded to me, attended by a request that I would submit it to the consideration of Congress.
I cannot waive a compliance with a request urged upon me by so large and respectable a number of my fellow-citizens: The Bankrupt Law, carefully guarded against fraudulent practices, and embracing, as far as practicable, all classes of society—the failure to do which has heretofore constituted a prominent objection to the measure—would afford extensive relief, I do not doubt. The distress incident to the derangements of some years past, has visited large numbers of our fellow-citizens with hopeless insolvency, whose energies, both mental and physical, by reason of the load of debts pressing upon them, are lost to the country. Whether Congress shall deem it proper to enter upon the consideration of this subject at its present extraordinary session, it will wisely determine. I have fulfilled my duty to the memorialists in submitting their petition to your consideration.

JOHN TYLER.

Mr. Harley one of the whig candidates for Congress, according to public notice, addressed the voters of Lowndes county on Monday the 16th instant at this place. Mr. Harley is a planter, and having engaged but little in the politics of this State, has not yet become extensively known but we take great pleasure in stating that his address gave universal satisfaction to our friends who heard it. Indeed, considering that he is not a professional man and has not been in the habit of public speaking, we were most agreeably surprised at his ready command of language, the graceful fluency of his style, and the forcible manner in which he treated the subjects that came within the range of his speech, and we most cordially recommend him to our friends throughout the State, as a gentleman in every respect qualified to represent us in the Congress of the United States.
Columbus Argus, July 27.

The best manner of supporting a newspaper.—The following remarks of a cotem-porary on the best manner of supporting a good newspaper, are true to the letter.
"Much depends upon the supporters of a newspaper whether it is conducted with spirit and interest—if they are stingy and negligent in their payments, the pride and ambition of the Editor is broken down, he works at a thankless and unprofitable task—he becomes discouraged and careless—his paper loses its pith and interest, and dies.
But, on the contrary, if his subscribers are of the right sort—if they are punctual, liberal hearted fellows—always in advance on the subscription list—taking an interest in increasing the number of his subscribers—now and then speaking a good word for his paper—cheering him on his course by smiles of approbation: with such subscribers as these I would forewear comfort, ease, leisure —everything that could possibly step between me and the gratification of every laudable desire on their part; I would know no other pleasure but their satisfaction.— How much then can the supporters of a newspaper do to make it interesting and respectable—indeed without concurring efforts on their part, the publisher of a paper will not, cannot bestow the attention which is necessary to make it as it should be."

To THE WISE.—Who is the greater—the wise man who, elevating himself above the tumult of time, remains an unperceived spectator, or the wise man who, from the height of tranquillity, boldly casts himself into the battle-throng of his age? It is sublime, when the eagle soars, through the storm, upwards into the blue firmament; but sub-limer still, when, floating in the azure above the canopy of vapor, he dashes through the storm-clouds and alights on the crag where, in their eyrie, his unfledged little ones dwell and tremble.

CALHOUN ON A NATIONAL BANK.—"I might say with truth that the Bank owes as much to me as any other individual in the country; and I might even add, that had it not been for my efforts it would not have been chartered
"I must content myself with saying, that having, been on the political stage without interruption, from that day to this—having been an attentive observer of the question of the currency throughout the whole period —that the Bank has been an indispensable agent in the restoration of specie payments that without it the restoration could not have been effected, short of the utter prostration of all the monied institution of the country, and an entire depreciation of bank paper; and that it has not only restored specie payments but has given a currency far more uniform, between the extremes of the country than was anticipated or ever dreamed of, at the time of its creation." Speech of John C. Calhoun in 1832.

COLD HEARTS.—Compression of the chest prevents a free circulation of the blood.— Of course it moves sluggish and the pulsations are dull. Perhaps this is the cause of so many "cold hearts" in the world. Ladies should avoid this unjust impuration, by allowing the lungs full play, and the blood the freedom of its circulation. Some large hearts are thus unfortunately enclosed in very contracted receptacles.
North American.

AN EVASIVE ANSWER.—Well, Pat, did you present that bill for payment which I gave you this morning?
Yes, your honor.
Well, what was the gentleman's answer?
Evasive, your honor.
Evasive! what do you mean?
Why, your honor, he said he'd be a—and if he would pay it.

AN ODD CALCULATION.—An English paper states that the owners of an ambulating menagerie lately calculated that if all the ferocious animals which are now confined in Europe were let loose in an immense forest, it would contain 225 lions, 285 tigers, 302 leopards, 270 panthers, 67 elephants, 10 rhinoceroses, 2,700 walves, 78 turtles, 216 boa-constrictors, 1040 hyenas and 96 crocodiles.

We never saw an editor who was more sinned against than sinning; in other words, to whom there was not more money due than he himself owed.

How wonderful is the human voice!—It is the organ of the soul, with intellect of man situated, broadly in his eye, and upon his forehead, and the heart of man in written upon his countenance; but his soul reaches truth in the voice only—his audible, but not visible.
